▶ Inspired by her experiences as a Sephardic/Mizrahi Jew with close friends from different ethnic and religious backgrounds, actress/poet/playwright/native New Yorker Vanessa Hidary wrote "Culture Bandit," a solo show that chronicles her coming of age during the golden age of Hip-Hop and her dedication to fostering understanding and friendship between all people.

Vanessa is a member of the troupe "Nice Jewish Girls Gone Bad," and is featured on HBO's Def Poetry and in the film "The Tribe" which has been selected for the 2006 Sundance Film Festival.

Be'chol Lashon (In Every Tongue), a program of the Institute for Jewish & Community Research, seeks to grow and strengthen the Jewish people through ethnic, cultural, and racial inclusiveness.
